Institutional-Quality Investment Management

Flexible Fund Structure

Innovative fund structure enabling clients to allocate capital without capital call or J-curve risk. Additionally, providing greater liquidity options than a typical closed-end private fund structure

Compliment Public Market Exposures

Alternative investments have historically improved investor outcomes when held in conjunction with public equity and fixed income securities

Growth & Diversification

The Portfolio has been designed to target consistent long-term growth of capital and provide meaningful diversification benefits to a portfolio invested solely in public market securities

Investment Objective

Obsiido Alternative Growth Portfolio will seek to achieve attractive long-term risk-adjusted returns by investing substantially all of its assets in a diversified portfolio of alternative investments, including but not limited to private equity, private debt, real assets and hedge funds. The Fund will invest on a global basis.

Investment Strategy

To meet its objective, the Portfolio will invest its assets primarily in underlying funds or other investment vehicles managed by third-party alternative investment managers.

Obsiido will follow a strategic asset allocation approach that is guided by long-term risk and return assumptions for the asset classes in which the Portfolio invests. It is expected that the Portfolio will allocate between 70%-85% of its assets into private market investments with the remainder being deployed into more liquid alternative investments such as hedge funds, cash and cash equivalent securities.

Disclaimers

¹ The target net annual return is the target annualized net return over a rolling 5 year period and includes distributions. The target net annual return represents a projection and does not represent returns actually obtained by investors. There is no guarantee that the target net annual return will be realized or achieved or that an investment will be successful. Actual performance may deviate from these expectations materially, including due to market or economic factors, portfolio management decisions, the performance of the underlying investment funds, or other reasons. Actual returns may be greater or less than the target. The target net annual return is derived from an internal exercise to model expected risks and returns for each asset class that the Portfolio expects to have exposure to. Obsiido may update the target net annual return from time to time.

² This is the target strategic asset allocation mix for the Portfolio as of January 2024. The actual asset allocation, at any given time, may differ for a number of reasons, including for tactical reasons. Asset allocation decisions are at the discretion of Obsiido, as the portfolio manager.

³ Returns are shown for Series A, Series F and Series I and reflect total returns for each period. Total return is calculated as the change in the net asset value (NAV) per unit during the period, plus distributions per unit (assuming distributions are reinvested) divided by the beginning NAV per unit. The returns are net of management fees and administration fees for Series A and Series F, and net of administration fees for Series I. From October 1, 2023 to February 29, 2024, Obsiido, in its discretion, waived the management fee for Series A and Series F; and from March 1, 2024 to September 2, 2024, Obsiido, in its discretion, waived half of the management fee for Series F. Annualized returns express the rate of return of the series over a given time period on an annual basis. This figure is not the actual returns of the series.

Effective as of September 3, 2024, the management fee for Series F was reduced from 0.50% to 0.25%.
